

Progressivism in the Church

Church Revolution in Pictures

Photo of the Week

Aggiornamento

St. Alphonsus Liguori Catholic Church in St. Louis, MO, calls itself a "rock" church. Its liturgies often feature teenagers and girls in extravagant clothing performing rock dance routines during the Mass.

Above, teenagers rock dance at the altar during a highly attended Mass.

Below, barefoot young girls in leotards perform a rock routine at a morning Mass.

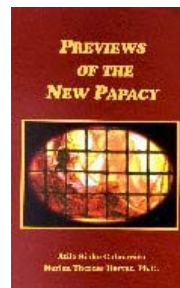

Internet photos

Related Pictures of Interest:

- John Paul II dancing to rock with teens in Sydney
- Swiss youth perform rock for John Paul II
- Is the Pope dancing again in the Czech Republic?
- JPII transforms an Eucharist Congress into a rock concert

Our Lady of La Salette, restore the Holy Church

Find 500 more pictures in Previews of the New Papacy

Pictures | Home | Books | Tapes | Search | Contact Us

2002-2007 Tradition in Action, Inc. All Rights Reserved

