A Challenge to the Christian Community, March 9, 1999

By Greg \(dgnymn@sprynet.com\) (Winchendon, MA) - See all my reviews

Dave Hunt addresses the phenomenon sweeping the church which is encompassed by New Age thought and the seduction of motivation/success teachers such as Napoleon Hill. Using well-grounded biblical principles he reduces the health/wealth/prosperity gospel to what it is - a sham, and a shamanistic conspiracy to seduce believers into accepting the AntiChrist system. Of course, those easily offended at this critique may be put off, but if readers approach this with an open-mind, I believe the Spirit of God will reach them appropriately, and in light of the Word of God. After all, our experiences should be measured by the standard of the Word of God, as well as our reading. Like the Bereans, we should check it, to be sure it lines up with the pure, unadulterated scriptures. This book was a blessing, and I plan to read and re-read it. I would suggest the same to anyone who not only is interested in what is taking place in 1999 modern churches, but anyone who is taking the claims of success gurus and disciples of Napoleon Hill. As will be revealed, Hill's philosophies not only came from questionable sources, but were totally foreign to the Truth of Scripture. A gem of a book.

This book gives major reasons to be a faithful Berean,

January 8, 2006

By T-Dogg (Central Florida) - See all my reviews

I'll not be shy about the fact that I'm a big fan of the discerning style of Dave Hunt, and am familiar with his other works on the current apostasy within today's church. This one fits the bill, but on a much broader scale.

The premise of the book defines how and why the end times come about. On page 65 reads, "Why must the apostasy come first? Apparently it will be an integral part of the great deception and delusion that will sweep the entire world in preparation for the Antichrist's take-over."

After setting the stage, some startling info is given. For example, it is noted that the third President, John Taylor - a Mormon - "said that Christianity was 'hatched in hell' and 'a perfect pack of nonsense... The Devil could not invent a better engine to spread his work.'"

Yes, this book delves into the realm of the Freemasons, and other groups like the trilateral commission, showing the evolving of relationships between religion, economy, and the government.

To summarize, on page 213 the authors point out that they aren't accusing pastors quoted as purposely setting up the anti-christ, but that "Our concern has been to show that there is a growing pattern of seduction pointing in a particular direction prophesied in the Scriptures, and that none of us is immune from being deceived and deceiving others."

The book gets a little technical on the new age/positive confession movement, but it is necessary to the understanding of how mysticism and false spirituality has entered into the mainstream church.

RESPONSE TO OTHER REVIEWERS:

One reviewer writes above that the authors of this book seem more as "accuser of the brethren" than the comforter. Then they pull out some names like Ken Copeland and Ken Hagin, saying that what they were saying was slanted and altered.

To those of you who feel this way, I suggest that you study the scriptures, in particular Acts 17:11, in which Paul congratulates the discerning Bereans for checking up on his teachings daily to see if what he teaches is true. Just because a church has over 10,000 members and a pastor on TV who says "Jesus is Lord" over and over doesn't mean that they are even walking with Christ; it might be that they never really knew Him.

I can tell you firsthand that the word-faith/prosperity teachers are doing their share to set up a one-world order. Copeland, Hagin, Hinn and their crew have always claimed that we are not to subjugate to the will of God, that our reality is our confession, and that the cross of Christ was a place of defeat rather than what it truly is -- THE VICTORIOUS CROSS. If you really don't believe that these pastors are teaching what this book says they are teaching, I suggest the audio version of "Christianity in Crisis" by Hanegraaff or the video entitled "The Great Apostasy: the Lost Sign" by the Christian Sentinel. If you want to get really into one of TV's biggest frieks, check out a video by the Trinity Foundation entitled "The Many Faces of Benny Hinn".

Phuey on Christian believers who blindly follow their leaders, and negligently allow heretics like Copeland, Hagin, and Hinn to take financial advantage -- all the while leading us to an undiscerning church paradigm that welcomes a one-world religion with open arms, and negating the importance of the sacrifice of Jesus Christ.

The truth doesn't look like what you will see in megachurches on TV; the truth looks like God on a Cross.

A very, very good book, March 13, 2000

By A Customer

I read this book back in 1994. It was at a time when I was deep into the health and wealth gospel. I was also a member of a well known church here in Columbus that is broadcast to many cities outside of Ohio and outside of the country. It really opened my eyes and I am grateful to God that I read this book because I began to read my Bible. Which caused me to be the Berean I should have been long ago. The teachings that I was following in the health and wealth gospel pulled me away from God not closer to Him. Most of the time the health and wealth gospel sounds like something at a multi-level marketing meeting (pick whichever company out there). Because of Mr. Hunt's book, I started reading my Bible to get to know God for Himself and not for what He can give me. I recommend it for anyone caught up in health and wealth or any false teaching. But most of all read the Bible and let the Holy Spirit lead you. That's what I did and now I fellowship in a congregation that preaches and teaches the True Gospel.
