XXIX World Religions Conference: Call for Speakers !!

Theme: Is God Relevant in Today's World?

Saturday, October 24, 2009 (10:00 am ~ 6:00 pm)
 Humanities Theatre, J. G. Hagey Hall, University of Waterloo, Ontario, Canada

How World Religions explain the relevance of God in a today's world of science, society of economic uncertainty and cultural multiplicity. With the advancement of Science and Technology, belief in Faith and God is often considered a conflict with the belief in Science. World Religions will explore if belief in God can coexist with belief in science and belief in knowledge.

Continuing 29 years of interfaith respect, mutual understanding and harmony among world's faiths, the prestigious World Religions Conference is scheduled for Saturday, October 24, 2009 at the Humanities Theatre, J.G. Hagey Hall, University of Waterloo, Ontario, Canada.

This event is expected to draw several hundred from the region and across Canada. Several local, provincial and national leaders are also expected to attend and deliver greetings to the delegates. The World Religions Conference of Waterloo is now the largest Multi-Faith event of its kind in Canada.

Call For Speakers

Faith groups and WRC-Partner organizations are invited to submit recommendations for suitable speakers representing Aboriginal Peoples' Religions, Hinduism, Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Sikh Religion and Humanism (Atheism) for the event. The objective of this year's conference is to bring scholars from different faith groups, religions, and philosophical traditions together to present and discuss the relevance of God in today's world. The speakers are expected to describe relevant teachings from their Holy Scriptures or traditions as well as to elaborate on the logical underpinnings of these teachings.

The World Religions Conference has built a reputation for bringing together scholars of high standing and stimulating deep and thought-provoking exchange of ideas. To meet the expectation of the conference, our aim is to get the most suited individuals for the occasion. The proposed speakers should be knowledgeable in both their teachings and this year's topic. They should also be well known in their respective communities and the community at large.

Deadline for Speaker recommendations: June 20, 2009

Our plan is to finalize the list of speakers by June 20, 2009. This would allow us to produce conference publications and effectively promote the conference. Each proposal should contain details on the speaker including a CV, affiliation, and current involvement in the community and recent photograph.

Format of Event:

Distinguished scholars will be representing various faiths and philosophical traditions at the conference. Faith groups will present special spiritual poems and songs, and set up displays and exhibits.
